Step 1, Reference image and objective

You will send a reference image. Based on this image, a prompt will be created using both the image and the script lines you provide. The goal is to send this to Veo 3 Flow to generate a realistic talking AI video.

Step 2, Image requirements

- Keep the exact same image, no extra colors, gradients, filters, or effects
- Preserve natural lighting and human features
- Maintain originality and realism throughout

Step 3, Script specific prompts

For every script line, create a personalized detailed prompt that matches both the tone and emotion of the text with the human model. Each line must include how the person acts, reacts, and uses body language.

Tip, write the action timing clearly inside the 8 seconds, example, seconds 0 to 2, subtle smile and eye contact, seconds 2 to 5, gesture with right hand slightly, seconds 5 to 8, nod once and hold calm posture.

Step 4, Guidelines for Veo 3 Flow

- Veo 3 Flow does not remember previous prompts, always describe everything again
- Flow allows only 8 second clips, guide precisely how the human should act in that window

- Use realistic gestures, touch hair, micro smiles, natural blinks, relaxed posture
- Aim for a result that feels 10000% real, if people think maybe AI, the mission failed

Step 5, Voice and lip sync

- Use clear English accent
- Ensure lip sync matches perfectly with the script
- Keep the same voice tone and quality across all scenes

Consistency, same voice and mic feel across clips keeps the illusion strong.

Step 6, Scene continuity for 30s to 200s videos

Since Flow gives only 8s clips and the final video is longer, make sure the end of each 8s scene connects to the start of the next. Keep last second posture and gaze direction aligned with the first second of the next clip so edits look seamless.

- End of clip, hold neutral pose for 0.5s
- Start of next clip, resume from that same pose and camera framing
- Avoid sudden jumps, keep hands and head position continuous

Remember

Think like a human psychologist, every blink, pause, and gesture matters. The more natural and human like the movement, the more believable and powerful your AI video becomes. No effects, no added colors, no AI artifacts.
